Modes of Proposing.

There seems to be other ways of getting a wife besides advertising for one.

A young lady in England, it is said, the heiress of some property, had occasion from time to time to consult a lawyer, who was one of the trustees of the property, though not much older than herself, on matters of business. The lawyer, wholly engrossed with his profession, listened to her politely at these interviews, answered her briefly, and that was all.

At length she came to him one day to consult him about an offer of marriage which had been made to her. He heard her story, his attention being half occupied at the time by some papers on the desk before him that he was arranging. As soon as she had finished he paused a moment from his work, put himself into an attitude of reflection, and said, musingly:

"Well! Yes! Marriage is certainly an important subject, and everybody must think of it at some time or other, I suppose. I have never thought of it particularly in my own case."

Then turning to the young lady he asked her if she was particularly interested in the young gentleman who had proposed to her. She said she was not.

"Well, then," said he, "if you have a fancy for being married, here am I. If you think you could be comfortable and happy with me, I am at your service. Think of it."

The lady said she would think of it, and retired, while the lawyer returned to the work of arranging his papers.

A month afterward they were married.

On the subject of the fate of the disappointed suitor, history is silent.

The above is an English story.

The two following are Yankee stories, and are equally characteristic of their origin:

A young Boston merchant, who had come into the city when he was eighteen, and had devoted himself strictly and faithfully to his duties, found himself at the age of thirty-two in the possession of a large and fast increasing capital, at the head of a very prosperous and lucrative business, and in the receipt by means of it of an ample income, but with no wife. He first bought and furnished a house in a handsome part of the town, and then began to cast about for the means of finding a lady to place at the head of it.

There were plenty of frivolous and fashionable women about him, whose idea of a husband was a gentleman to work all day in the counting-room in order to furnish them with money for their dresses, and with a house containing splendid parlors for their balls and parties. But these were not his kind. He wished for a wife who had some idea of duty to be performed. He wanted that he must seek one among those who had been trained to the performance of duty.

"New Hampshire is a good State," said he to himself, musing.

So he went from his store round the corner to the counting-room of a commission merchant, who acted as agent for the sale of goods consigned to him by a large company at Dover, and asked for a letter of introduction to the superintendent of the mills, something for his own liability. The merchant wrote a letter as follows:

"The bearer of this is Mr. A. B., a gentleman thoroughly responsible, and worthy of entire confidence in every respect."

Armed with this missive, he went to Dover, presented his letter to the superintendent, and asked permission to go through the mills and observe different operations. The permission was granted, and he commenced going the rounds. After a time he came into an immense hall, where several hundred girls of all ages from eight to twenty-five, were engaged in weaving or, rather in watching and supervising the weaving done by the looms. They were all active, healthy and intelligent. Many of them were actually beautiful, and they were without exception easy and graceful in their movements. No awkwardness can live among the looms and spinning machines of a cotton mill.

"The finest assortment," said the gentleman to himself, "that I ever saw. If a man cannot suit himself here, it is no use for him to look any further."

So he proceeded at once to make an examination of "the goods." He first, from a seat near the foreman's desk, surveyed the countenance, bearing and general demeanor of the various operatives. Then he walked about the room, and held a little conversation with one and another here and there. Finally he took his selection. He made some inquiries of the foreman in regard to the character of the one he had chosen. Receiving very favorable answers, he asked incidentally as it were, what was her name and where she came from, and obtained the desired information.

He took the next train which went into that part of the country, and stopped at the village in question. At the tavern he fell into conversation with the landlady about village affairs, and from her obtained much additional information. The girl was the daughter of a farmer, respectable, though in humble circumstances, was well educated, as all New Hampshire girls are, and bore an excellent character. He went to the farmer's house, and after a long conversation, for which negotiations for the purchase of apples formed the pretext, but of which the real object was to give the father and mother an opportunity to become a little acquainted with him, he bade them good-by, after arranging to have the apples in three barrels of them packed and sent to Boston.

To make a long story short, the gentleman went back that same afternoon to Dover, called at the young lady's boarding-house, and asked to see her on business; and he so far succeeded in his negotiations with her as to induce her to close her engagement at the mill, and go home and consult her father and mother on the "business" in question.

In about a month they too were married. The gentleman's friends think that he has got a charming and most excellent wife, though they can not imagine how he found her in that out-of-the-way village in New Hampshire. They live very happily together in Boston, and she attends faithfully to all her duties as wife and mother, having been trained to the performance of duty from her childhood. It would be a betrayal of confidence for us to give the street and number where they live.

In all the preceding cases the matches were made in a very business-like and matter-of-fact way. There is one story remaining to be told, which is of a much more romantic and sentimental character, so that those readers who do not fancy romantic tales may as well, perhaps, pass over the remainder of this article.

A student who had completed his studies and was commencing his professional life under very favorable auspices, was on his way home late in the autumn to make a little visit to the parental roof. It was in the old times, when the only mode of conveyance for traveling was the stage coach. Among his fellow passengers in the coach was a young lady of very agreeable person and manners, who first attracted his notice by her kind consideration for an aged woman who was assisted into the coach at a wayside inn. In the course of the day the gentleman became pretty well acquainted with the young lady, whose name he ascertained was Mary W——. He began to feel a strong interest in her, and it would seem from the result that the interest was in some degree reciprocal. In the course of the conversations that they held together in the stage, and also in walking up certain long hills, where such of the passengers as were so disposed got out to relieve the horses, they learned mutually many particulars of each other's parentage and history, so that as the day passed on they began to feel somewhat like old friends.

During the afternoon a rain storm came on. The roads became wet and heavy, and the progress made was slow. The sky was overcast, and darkness supervened at a very early hour, while the stage was yet several miles from the village where it was to stop. As the wheels went plowing through the mud and ruts, the passengers became uneasy, for the driver had no lights. The young lady, however, evinced so much calmness and composure as greatly to increase the interest which the student felt for her. The danger was real, as the event proved, for just as the coach reached the top of a hill, the wheels on one side went off the edge of the road into a ditch, and the coach overturned.

The student called out to the passengers to lie as still as possible, so as to get out quietly, one by one, from the opening in the side of the coach, which was uppermost. He was himself near the door on that side, and was the first to escape. He then assisted the others by feeling, for it was so utterly dark that nothing could be seen. The young lady came next but one. The road was so wet and muddy, he said, that she could not step in it, and she must let him carry her to the [illegible] on the other side. She consented.

She took her in her arms and [illegible] to her across the muddy road, [illegible] his way in the utter darkness, made more intricate by the [illegible] of a forest that bordered the road. Crime Making Laws.

Men are usually contented and quiet, and zealous in the welfare and prosperity of their country, they discountenance turbulence, and in maintaining established authority and in enforcing obedience to equal laws. In a community where there is a class of men against whom the laws discriminate, it is perfectly natural that there will be resistance to oppression. The frequent cases of violence which occur in the South mean nothing else than that a large class of people are there, who are not permitted rights which they ought to possess. There is a sentimental admonition to England that Ireland is not properly governed. In our country there are those who insist that the laws discriminate against certain classes, and that the results which flow from equal and impartial administration of justice shall be visited upon those whose numbers are counted by the million. This is the way to make criminals and to engender dissatisfaction, produces turbulence, and at last leads inevitably to acts of violence.

It is continually in the ears of the people, that Rebellion, here & little and there a little, is put down, and of our Government is upheld by the law and maintained, both because it is the only power and because it is the only perfect system and laws produce the pernicious effects of inequality in the enjoyment of rights and the administration of justice cannot be made to the peace of society. This has been demonstrated over and over again in the case of nations as well as of individuals. It is not nothing can be expedient unless it is right. Slavery was for a long time cherished in the South and though it was founded on a monstrous principle than that of robbery was held to be right, because it was said to be profitable. The lessons of the last few years have dispelled this idea, and the nation has been taught by the terrible and terrible devastations of war, by the sacrifice of life, and the immense debt which it has been compelled to pay, that it is not profitable, or expedient to support, and therefore to build a permanent government upon a system of wrong. In declaring that all men have an equal chance of equal rights before the law, and that any infringement of the rights of which will be proportioned to the degree of injustice and oppression which is practiced upon those who are the laws to be unjust, those who would resist and thereby, in a course will lead to civil disorders. There are such things as crime-making laws, and such are all those which recognize the principle that, in the distribution of rights and the administration of justice, all who are amenable to the laws are entitled to the same benefits and immunities which equal laws confer.

Turning the Debt.

Propositions are being made in Congress for funding the national debt and placing it on a stable foundation. The several plans presented are similar to the impressment of [illegible] viz: Placing the bonds upon a fixed and recognized basis of redemption in gold, making the new securities of long date, and giving the option to the Government of redeeming them after a certain term, say of ten years, and declaring that the currency, when tendered for bonds, can be refused into bonds, or withdrawn when money shall be in demand. The provision for converting into bonds, and the option of redemption, are the leading feature of Senator Sherman's bill. The adoption of such a plan would be an effectual check to inflation, and furnish a safe system for the temporary investment of money. The currency question would thus regulate itself. Undoubtedly Congress will adopt some plan for funding the debt during the present session. It is needed to give stability to the finances, to fix in exact terms the character of the debt, and to take away from demagogues and speculators the opportunity to aggrandize themselves and work mischief to the country by keeping up a perpetual clamor about national finances and unsettling the public credit by disturbing propositions.

The Chicago Tribune, in speaking of the comparison which is going on between the Democrats and the negroes for the superiority, puts the case thus: "Having a comfortable consciousness that one sort of white man is superior to the African black man, in all the essential qualities which tell in society and in the State, we are not afraid to give the negro a fair start in the race toward the goal to which all modern civilization points. If Copperhead consciousness is not quite as sure as Copperhead superiority, and must fain submit to force to keep the negro below the level of Henry Clay Dean, the editor of the New York Day Book, and others of that ilk, who are afraid of a negro supremacy, Copperheads are to be pitied. They need to be born again, and immediately. Now sent to a graded school, from which, for good and [illegible] traveling Copperheads, Sambo and all of his color are excluded."

The Herald publishes an article headed "Uprising of the Democracy of Marion County." We do not remember to have seen in the Salem papers any account of a revolt in the institution presided over by Major Barry. Must be some mistake.

The grants of land which Congress has made to aid railroads are more than equal in area to all New England, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia and Ohio.

WHAT A TWO COLUMN LEADER IS MADE OF.—An article was published in the Herald two or three days ago concerning one Swaney, who for some time has been editor of the Marlp—n, (Cal.) Gazette, and who is charged with the crime of murder. It is stated by the Herald that Swaney has been for several years a "leading Radical politician of California." The truth is, he was educated in the Democratic party, and his paper was Democratic until 1861, when he joined the Union party because it was in the ascendant and he hoped to profit by it,—the very same motives which actuated Humason, Hayden & Co. in Oregon. But Swaney never was a "leading" man in the Union party of California. He was never known outside of his own county. If he has committed murder, it should be remembered that his training through life has been in a Democratic school. He is generally regarded as having no principles, and nobody concedes that he possesses any ability. Now that the Democratic party is in power in California, he will unquestionably go over to that party, if he has not already done so—that is, if he escapes the gallows. The Herald whose editor seems to know a great deal about this man, probably because he is one of his old associates, "has no idea that he will be punished," because he is a "Radical." Now the county is intensely Democratic and has always been, the judicial district is Democratic, and if he is not hanged it will be because of Democratic sympathy. It is charged that a woman whose name was Terry was associated with him in the crime. The Terry family were from the South and are extremely Democratic, being Southern Methodists and of course as orthodox in politics as in their belief in the texts about Hagar, Ham and Onesimus. The probability is that if the pair are not brought to justice, it will be owing to the sympathy of Democratic jurors with the families of both parts as. This whole matter is really of too little importance to Oregon readers to be worth even the brief paragraph we have given it, and we notice it only because the Herald has devoted a two column lead to the subject, and endeavored to make out a case for its party by a characteristic perversion of nearly all the facts.

Poor old Beriah has again received information of a most reliable character in regard to the political opinions and intentions of Gen Grant. This time the information comes from "a gentleman in this city who has received a letter from an intimate personal friend of Grant." The tenor of this new revelation is that Gen Grant will not consent to be a candidate for President, fearing that he would be beaten by some Copperhead semi-Rebel nonentity as candidate! Now this is good. It is almost as good as that information which came to Beriah through a personal friend of Major Dent, "Gen. Grant's father in law, and an avowed secession loafer." But this last story being merely the old one revamped, is losing its novelty to a great extent, even though it is told with variations. Still, it is pretty good, but it will not bear telling much oftener. Custom begins to stale its variety.

The new Board of Directors of the Linn Co. Agricultural Association, at their first meeting, recently, elected A. Hackleman, President, E. H. Griffin, vice-President, James Elkins, Secretary, and D. Froman, Treasurer, for the ensuing year.

A party of hunters recently killed thirty deer on Butte—ck in Marion County, on one square mile of ground. A man named Pike, who lives in Benton County, last week brought forty seven slaughtered deer into Albany in one wagon.

Wheat has been coming into Albany in considerable quantities since the cold weather made the roads solid and passable. The price per bushel at that place is 90 cents.

The house of P. B. Smith, on South Umpqua river was destroyed by fire about ten days ago. Loss, about twenty-five hundred dollars.

A Union Club was organized at Roseburg on the 19th. Judge Willis was chosen President.

The sleet has seriously injured the orchards in Linn County, says the Albany Journal.

A Grant Club has been organized at Brownsville.

The Sale of Cuba.

A cable dispatch from Havana announces that the government of Spain has offered to sell Cuba and Porto Rico to the United States for $130,000,000 in gold. $50,000,000 down, $50,000,000 in one year, and the remainder in six years. It is stated that the proposal has created great excitement in Cuba, as well it might; and it is added that, with the exception of a few of the wealthy families, the people were well pleased with the prospect of becoming American citizens. Slavery, of course, would be abolished, but the owners would look to Spain for indemnity out of the purchase money for the loss of their chattels.

We are not prepared to credit the statement, and do not believe that Spain has made any proposition for the sale of her West India possessions to our government, or would accept any offer that might be made. She would be as reluctant to part with the "Gem of the Antilles" as Great Britain of the East Indies. It is the last and finest of her American possessions, and she prizes the "ever faithful" island as the apple of her eye.

If, by stress of impecuniosity, or fear of losing Cuba by war, Spain has really concluded to offer Cuba and Porto Rico to the United States for a money consideration, and $150,000,000 be the price put upon them, are our people ready and willing to come down with the dust? Do they want Cuba so badly as to pay that price for it? Can they spare the money? Has a secret negotiation been going on between Seward and the Spanish Cabinet for its acquisition? We are not prepared to answer any of these questions. A bona fide offer to sell Cuba and Porto Rico for the price named would cause a fearful strain on American credulity.

Ours is a land-grabbing, as well as a money grabbing race. The love of real estate is inherited from our British ancestors, it runs in the blood like the farmer who would be perfectly satisfied by the possession of all the farms adjoining his own, our government would be content with the annexation of all the nations adjoining and in the vicinity of the Union. If the American people would consult their real interest, they will avoid all further real estate operations until they have occupied and improved what they now own. When they need more they will get it on their own terms, and they can far better afford to wait till then than to buy now.—Chicago Tribune.

FEMALE SUFFRAGE.—The first instance of woman suffrage, of which we have any record, lately came out in England. A woman who kept a shop and paid rates, was, by some blunder of the recording officers, enrolled as a voter by her own proper name which appeared on her signboard—Lilly Maxwell. Jacob Bright was the Reformer candidate, and Lilly Maxwell went to the polling place and demanded the right to vote for him. The authorities were bothered considerably, but were obliged to admit her claim as they could not go behind the records and the first woman's vote in great Britain was given with loud applause from the interested lookers on. While we have been boggling and speechmaking about women suffrage in America, our slow-moving English cousins have achieved, by a blunder in the circumlocution office, that which it appears we are as far off from as ever.

A New Haven paper lately announced, by mistake, the subject of a debating club as, "Ought future punishment to be abolished?" Capital punishment was what they intended to talk about.

SACRAMENTO Jan 28.—The Senate was not in session yesterday.

In the House Connelly, from the committee on Claims, reported back the act to pay for services rendered the State Land Department with amendments. The claim of S. N. Norton for $1,314 for services as clerk in the office of the Surveyor General Houghton, and $100 for getting up and for publishing compilation of laws relative to the swamp and overflowed lands the committee amended the bill so as to allow $1 000 for clerical services, but nothing for work, which they think mere private speculation.

Spellman, from the committee on Public Morals, reported back several bills in regard to the observance and non observance of the Sabbath, with special recommendations.

Oliver rose subsequently on this subject to a question of privilege. As a member of the committee on Public Morals he was opposed to the report of the committee in favor of repealing the Sunday laws and should claim the right to submit a minority report.

An act authorizing the city and county of Sacramento to subscribe to the capital stock of the Central Pacific Railroad of California, and providing for the payment of the same, and other matters relating thereto, approved April 25, 1863, was in motion of Batchelder, at the request of the members of the Sacramento delegation, placed at the top of the file for Feb 1.

SACRAMENTO, Jan 28.—In the Senate yesterday, Pearley presented a lengthy memorial from the Pioneer Silk Growing and Manufacturing Association which was ordered printed and referred to the committee on agriculture.

Curtis, from the joint special committee on the State Board of Harbor Commissioners, presented a report with the conclusions of the committee accompanying evidence. The reading was dispensed with after an extended discussion, in which Curtis said, in regard to the wall, that the statements made before the committee by Rosecrans, Halleck and Alexander were not reduced to writing, but were embodied in the report, not in the form of affidavits but as an expression of opinion. The question was taken on the amendments to print double usual number of copies and passed and on motion was referred to the joint committee on Printing.

A message was received from the Governor transmitting the report of the trustees of the State Burial Ground, also, mentioning the resignation of Jerome Madden and E. M. Davis.

In the House, on motion of Spencer, a special committee of five, in accordance with a petition of citizens of Placer county, was directed to be appointed to investigate errors and mistakes in former petitions.

Waldron presented a petition of the citizens of Placer county, asking for a reduction of the rates of passage and freight on the Central Pacific Railroad. Referred to the committee on Corporations.

The message from the Senate transmitting the report on the joint special committee in reference to the State Harbor Commissioners was taken up and the report read.

A concurrent resolution, offered by Ryland, was adopted, that the joint committee on Printing examine the report and testimony and report what portions it is needful to print.

SACRAMENTO, Jan 30.—In the Senate yesterday, Belden, from the Judiciary Committee, reported favorably on act relating to the salary of the District Attorney of Shasta County. An act to fix the time for electing Representatives to Congress came up on its argument, and after some discussion, was ordered engrossed, by a vote of twenty-three to twelve. An act to provide for the election of President and Vice President was made the special order for Monday.

Roberts introduced an act to create the county of Alta, to be composed of the eastern portions of Placer and Eldorado counties.

In the Assembly, Middleton presented a petition from the merchants of San Francisco protesting against the proposed pilot act, introduced by Senator Boulder, and asking that the present Law may remain undisturbed.

Broderson presented some forty or fifty petitions from various parts of the State, embracing, as he said more than 9,000 signatures, asking the repeal of the Sunday laws.

The Placer county contested election was taken up and, on account of the illness of Mr. Tuttle, one of the contestants, was set for Friday next at 12 o'clock.

Professor Whitney, the State Geologist, will address the Legislature on the geology of California and the progress of the geological survey, of which he has charge, in the Assembly Chamber, this evening at 7 o'clock.

A committee has been appointed to wait upon the Governor of British Columbia to ascertain what progress has been made in the matter and to take further steps for the admission of this colony into the Dominion.

A PATCHWORK POEM.—Mr H A Deming is said to be the compiler of the following lines, each selected from a different author and arranged so as to constitute a poem on Life It will not be difficult to believe his statement that a whole year s labor was required to find such lines as would fit together rhyme and make any sort of connected sense.

1—Why all this toil for triumphs of an hour?
2—Life s a short Summer man a flower;
3—By turns we catch the vital breath and die—
4—The cradle and the tomb alas how nigh
5—To be is better far than not to be,
6—Though all man s life may seem a tragedy
7—But light cares speak when mighty griefs are dumb,
8—The bottom is but shallow whose fine they come
9—Your fate is but the common fate of all;
10—Unmingled joys here, to no man befall
11—Nature to each allots his proper sphere
12—Fortune makes folly her peculiar care
13—Custom does often reason overrule
14—And throw a cruel sunshine on a fool
15—Live well, how long or short permit to heaven
16—They who forgive most shall be most forgiven
17—Sin may be clasped so close we cannot see its face—
18—Vile intercourse where virtue has not place
19—Then keep each passion down, however dear,
20—Thou pendulum, betwixt a smile and tear;
21—Her sensual snares, let faithless pleasures lay,
22—With craft and skill, to ruin and betray
23—Soar not too high to fall but stoop to rise,
24—We masters grow of all that we despise
25—O then, renounce that impious self-esteem
Riches have wings and grandeur is a dream
27—Think not ambition wise because it s brave
28—The paths of glory lead us but to the grave
29—What is ambition? 'tis a glorious cheat
30—Only destructive to the brave and great
31—What's all the gaudy glitter of a crown?
32—The way to bliss lies not on beds of down
33 How long we live not years but actions tell
34—That man lives twice who lives the first life well
35—Make, then while on this earth you must reside,
36—Whom Christians worship yet not comprehend
37—The trust that's given, guard, and to yourself be just 38 For live we how we can yet die we must

The following is a key to the authorship of each line 1 Young; 2 Dr Johnson; 3 Pope; 4 Peter 5, Beaumont; 6, Spenser; 7 Daniels 8 Sir Walter Raleigh; 9, Wilkie, 10 Southwell 11 Congreve 12, Church ill 13, Rochester 14, Armstrong 15, Milton 16, Daily 17, Young; 18, Somerville; 19, Thompson; 20 Byron 22, Sheridan, 22, Crabbe 23 Massinger 24, Cowley 25, Mason; 26, Cowper 27 Sir Walter Davenant; 28, Gray; 29, Willis 30, Addison 31, Dryden 32, Francis Quarles 33 Watts 34 Sir William Mason; 35, Holt; 37, Dana; 38 Shakespeare.

NEW YORK CHOLERA.—The following is the text of General Orders No 3, issued by Brevet Major Gen L. H Rousseau, from the Headquarters of the Department of the Columbia, yesterday, Jan 30th

I Officers are usually expected to make out their own papers, and as there is no company in this Department of two officers with it all applications for civilian clerks will be disapproved Enlisted men when the exigencies of the service require it will be temporarily detailed by the commanding officers of posts for clerks upon proper papers being made. The detailing of soldiers for clerkships should be discouraged as far as possible; soldiers so disabled must be well instructed in all military duties and attend all company inspections

II As enlisted men of companies serving in the District of Oregon have continual service with hostile Indians, the following officers of that District is authorized to employ (2) packers at each post for the period of two years, who, when not otherwise employed, shall in turn do the enlisted men at the post in packing—a commutation of rations will attend the same At the end of two years the packers will be discharged

Brevet Major General Crook will have the enlisted men at his command instructed in the same way by the pack men in his employ

III The commanding officers of these Districts are also authorized to employ a competent blacksmith for two months for each company of Cavalry serving in their respective districts, which is to be done at such time as the company commanders may direct, but if there are no such companies in the District to perform the work at the end of that time they will be discharged No citizens or their teams or wagons will be allowed.

This order will apply to Camps Watson and Logan

A PEACE MEAT BILL.—The telegraphic dispatches of yesterday morning contain a statement that by a recent treaty between the United States and the Feejee King the latter mortgages his islands to secure payment to certain American sailors whom his subjects ate the several years ago. This is the first instance in the history of the United States in which the Government has negotiated a butcher's bill and promised it to the object of security The subjects of the United States will be consulted to know what they think whether they may happen to fall into cannibal hands and are converted into food, the government will insist upon indemnity It is a sad fact that sailors, cannibals must receive under the rules which prevail in Christendom, all that pay for what they eat We earnestly hope that Mr Seward has not neglected to stipulate with the Feejee monarch as to the exact cash or land prices to be paid for human flesh so that every sailor who goes in that direction may be able to sell safely, in pounds, and current coin of the realm how much he will enrich the public treasury, in case he goes in for a good dinner while of some Feejee epicure Provision should be plain and specific, so that all the Feejee will have to do in case a sailor is roasted, peppered and swallowed will be to make out his bill stating to the Feejees, to the United States for To the value of Bill Jones American—175 lbs, at 6 cents per lb, $10 50 " This would make the United States safe against loss and at the same time enable the noble Feejees to keep, as all sinners, whether their grub bills are kept up to par for their lives or

SHEEP SUFFERING.—We hear from all sections that cattle and sheep are suffering much from the inclement winter and insufficient food In most sections of the country there appears to be a deficiency of hay and it is thought that of Mid-table loss of stock will occur Many of the interior counties are over stocked with sheep, as the result of the high prices of wool which has prevailed till within a few months, and no doubt provision has been made for the subsistence of herds or flocks The Counties of Marion, Linn and other counties of the Upper Willamette valley, as soon as two weeks ago, apprehensive of loss Letters from Jackson and Douglas counties state that the snow is very severe and that the cattle and sheep are dying in considerable numbers It is expected that reports will be received from Eastern Oregon in all the sections mentioned the snow has fallen to much greater depth than here.

REDUCTION FREIGHTS.—The signing of the railroad petitions still goes on, the number of signatures last evening reaching about nine hundred The feeling for and against the thing is considerably intensified and the Railroad Ordinance has become quite a general topic of discussion everywhere, and among all classes Those in favor of its passage are quite confident of success while many of their opponents are speaking more positively of their hopes before the late meeting of the Council. It is clear that a railroad victory will not be gained without a hard fight The provisions of the ordinance, as amended, which exempt the City from expenditure in case the courts shall declare the ordinance unconstitutional seem to have overcome the opposition of many who have heretofore objected to its passage

WHARF BUILDING.—Some portions of the piling for the foundation of a large wooden building between Taylors and Salmon streets, river side of Front, are on the grounds and workmen are engaged in framing and excavating The building is to be put up by the Messrs Starr—125 feet front and 75 feet depth to be divided into five stores of 25 feet each When completed and occupied it will be a material addition to the business appearance of that part of Front Street

RACING.—That horse race, below the city yesterday afternoon The point of difference between the gentlemen was that one wanted to run on the upper road and the other on the lower and of the half mile stretch of road between the two, a judge to be named by each to split the difference, neither would compromise, both were resolved in their views as to this end and that end, and the end of it finally was that the fun came to an end before it began

A STREET FULL.—The Portland Dray Co are moving the large barn occupied by Hogan & Co prior to the consolidation of the companies to the block on which stands the stables built by Bills & Co It is a large building and will fill a space of the street. Last evening it was moved the corner of Stark and Front where it was left over night filling up entirely the passage to the ferry boat It will however, be out of the way at an early hour to-day

PERSONAL.—Mr. J C Cartwright lately appointed U S District Attorney, has been for two or three days in this city, making arrangements as we presume to become a resident among us Mr G W Lawson late a member of the house of Representatives from Yamhill county, and still later a practicing attorney at Salem, is also in town awaiting a steamer from San Francisco He is about to remove with his family to California

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DELEGATES.—A special meeting of the Board of Delegates is called for Saturday evening at half past seven o clock The object of the meeting is not stated in the call, but it is supposed that it has relation to the organization of the Department as affected by the late election

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—The Record says highly of Mr Mitchell's lecture on temperance, Wednesday evening The lecturer viewed man in his social moral physical and political relations as affected by habits of temperance and intemperance

IN LIMBO.—Three Chinese witnesses in the case of the State vs Ah Chow, Ah Chim and Ah Chu tried yesterday, were arrested on the charge of perjury by swearing falsely, and will have an examination before the Recorder to-day

RELEASED.—We are glad to learn that the friends of Mr Fargaly whom we mentioned as having been imprisoned in default of payment of a fine, have come forward and, paying his fine and costs have procured his release

PRODUCE.—Arrived per steamer Alert from Oregon city yesterday 2,600 pounds flour 700 sacks oats 170 bags wheat 34 gunnies bacon, 14 boxes eggs 26 sacks feed 15 kegs lard 3 bales woolen goods and 1 bale furs

NATIONAL COLLEGE

BUSINESS AND COMMERCE

Corner of Alder and First Streets,

PORTLAND OREGON

FROM T. M. GATCH, PRINCIPAL OF THE PORTLAND ACADEMY AND FEMALE SEMINARY

Having lately had an opportunity of becoming some what acquainted with the workings of this Institution I unhesitatingly recommend it to all who wish to secure a practical business education in the shortest time and with the least expense The idea of going from Oregon to California to attend a Commercial School is simply absurd

It is my opinion that pupils instructed by Messrs FALLIN and DeFRANCE can secure a position than those of any other Commercial College in the west and that I can with truth say to parents of intending pupils that they will be safe in placing their sons in the care of these gentlemen

PERRY DAVIS' VEGETABLE PAIN KILLER.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

At this period there are but few of the human race unacquainted with the merits of the Pain Killer, but while some extol it as a liniment they know but little of its power in easing pain when taken internally while others use it internally with great success but are equally ignorant of its healing virtues when applied externally We therefore wish to say to all that it is equally successful whether used internally or externally and it stands alone unrivalled by all the great catalogue of Family Medicines and its use is universal and immense The demand for it from India and other foreign countries is equal to the demand at home and it has become known to these far off places by its merits

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU is pleasant in taste and odor free from all injurious properties and immediate in its action

Just Cause for being Alarmed.—When a Cough has been running for a long time and you begin to feel a pain setting in upon your lungs attended with tightness across the chest it is high time that you should awaken to the danger of your disease which is fast running to Consumption Now before it is too late use ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM which will cure the disease and all will be well with you No sale by the Dealers in Family Medicines generally

A Good Customer.

[From the Daily Era Mulliner.]

"Show me a shade of golden brown silk. I have made up my mind to have a silk one, and must make it answer all purposes."

I placed several shades of brown silk before her and named their prices.

"I like that shade," she said, pointing to a rich lustrous silk; "but it will make my bonnet come a little higher than I intended, so I will have it made of that," and she laid out a piece of inferior quality. "I will have buff trimmings to go with it, only a facing of blue. I must always have a tinge of blue to clear my complexion, but keep it out of sight as much as possible. Now show me flowers and ties to compare with the silk. I have some lace that I will send in to make me as pretty a bonnet as you can out of the whole piece. Put the bows as low on the top as possible, because I am tall, and don't wish to add to my height—a little on one side, to make them look easy."

"You shall have just as pretty a bonnet as I can make," I said; and I mentally added, the time you have saved in giving in your order will be bestowed upon your bonnet.

"Now ma'am Jennie next in order, as she is the eldest daughter. She has decided to have a [illegible] hat, and wear it everywhere for the present. The one she tried yesterday; you [illegible] for her, she said. Trim it up with the [illegible] and grass she looked at. If you don't [illegible] her I'll tell you her description."

"I remember." Little should I forget the orders of such customers.

HIRAM SMITH'S

Ophthalmic Panacea!

IN BRINGING THE ABOVE-NAMED NEW REMEDY to the notice of the Public, the Proprietor begs to state a few facts in relation to it, as follows:

It originated in Prussia, where the science of Medicine is so thoroughly taught and practised, but owing to the poverty of its discoverer its wonderful properties were not known beyond the limited circle of his acquaintance, in which, however, it proved itself absolutely infallible in eradicating all evils from the eyes.

He immigrated to this country, bringing his discovery with him, but seems to have been indifferent to the propriety of giving it general and wide-spread circulation, and, as previously in his native country, seemed only desirous of curing it among his friends and neighbors.

The present proprietor was one of those neighbors, and for many years was a witness to its wonderful efficacy, and, after ineffectual efforts to persuade the inventor to more widely disseminate the knowledge of its virtues, finally became himself the possessor of the secret of its preparation.

And now, while he does not deny that he hopes and expects to make money by the sale, he must yet lay claim to a desire to benefit his fellows by presenting to them a remedy which does and will cure where medical science and all experience have failed.

He wishes it to be understood that it will cure all diseases of the eye, whether of recent or long standing; but its greatest power is exhibited when it is applied to old Chronic Cases of long standing, which have resisted every other attempt to cure them, and which have been given up as hopeless and past being cured or relieved.

He asks those afflicted in this way to give it a trial, and so confident is he of its success that he instructs all his agents TO REFUND THE MONEY IF IT FAILS TO CURE.

He has, within the past year, cured cases of GRANULATED LIDS, INFLAMMATION, &c., of FIVE, SIX, NINE, FIFTEEN and SEVENTEEN YEARS STANDING, evidence of which fact is furnished in the testimony of the following persons, living at and in the neighborhood of Harrisburg, Oregon:

ALEXANDER L. WALKER was cured of inflamed eyes, of nine years standing. Had been treated by eminent physicians during all that time without effect.

Mrs. MONTGOMERY, of Harrisburg, had inflamed eyes for over two years. For one year they were so bad that she could not work. Was finally completely cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

E. B. MOORE, of the firm of Moore, Garst & Walker, of Harrisburg, had eyes cured after having tried other remedies.

NATHANIEL BELL, of Clackamas county, had inflamed eyes—a bad case—for over fifteen years.

ROBERT RAMSEY and W. B. PORTER, of Harrisburg; JOHN M. HOLLOWAY, of Linn County; G. R. WARD, of Lane County, were all afflicted, more or less severely, with diseased eyes, and were cured by the Ophthalmic Panacea.

All the above named persons have given lengthy testimonials to the facts above stated, which may be seen at the proprietor's office in Harrisburg.

CARD.

DR. BARLOW J. SMITH'S WATER CURE AND Phrenological Institute, 627 Sacramento Street, San Francisco. This is the only Regular Water Cure in San Francisco, where all curable diseases are treated without drugs. Dr. Smith was the first to establish a water cure on this coast, based upon the theory and practice of the New York Hydropathic College.

We have a truly healthful boarding place for men, women and children, and our prices are moderate.

The Phrenological organs plainly indicate the diseases to which any person, male or female, is predisposed.

Put this card in your hat, and when you come to San Francisco, call on Dr. Smith. He will give you consultation and a phrenological examination in regard to health. It will cost you nothing and may save you months and years of ill health and bad luck.

Dr. Smith gives free lectures to gentlemen every Friday evening, on subjects pertaining to health, at his Phrenological Hall, 627 Sacramento Street.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into their systems! Look at their pallid, sunken and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretenders who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict enquiry, or you may fall into the hands of the charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Self-abuse—its terrible consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an extent unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical means—viz., this Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in appearing among strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintance, timidity, loss of memory, bashful fickleness, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and will be sent a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove conclusively to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

TO THE LADIES.

The various complicated and distressing diseases incident to females, treated with eminent success. Such as Suppressions, Irregularities, Whites, Falling of the Womb, Tumors, all Urinary Diseases, Nervous Debility, Painful or Difficult Menstruation, Barrenness, etc., will be speedily cured, without poisonous drugs, injuries or unpalatable medicines of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. The afflicted are cordially invited to call and satisfy themselves.

Persons calling at Dr. Gibbon's office or sending for packages of medicines, may rely upon his assurances of confidential secrecy with implicit faith, and expect no more than to be charged with a fair, and mutually satisfactory remuneration for services rendered, considering the circumstances and difficulties of cases, rather than a too prevalent and selfish practice of extortion among quacks and pretenders.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

REDINGTON & CO'S

ESSENCE OF

JAMAICA GINGER

☞ This valuable preparation, containing, in a highly concentrated form, all the properties of the Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic, it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever or otherwise, for, while it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary efforts that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes. It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.

Sold by Druggists everywhere, and at wholesale by REDINGTON & CO., Agents for the Pacific Coast, San Francisco. jy24d3m4p
